Inn Review: The Blue-Eyed Minotaur is a well-kept inn, in Chervil Keep in the Kingdom of Styx. It stands on the banks of the Griff River. They have a nice view but the clientele is not the type to appreciate such things. It is a rather common inn but has one special drink called the Spider's Web. It is said to be lethal to those who have a weak constitution. They also feature exotic dancing as well as bare-fisted fighting. It is inexpensive, the staff is okay. The Inn has excellent mead, and a cocktail called the Mountain Lion which is quite fantastic. They have a delicacy called Ropper Wraps, for 8gc, we gave them a try, they were delicious.
